Living your life without a plan is like watching television with someone else holding the remote control.

Peter Turla

Dear Students:

The spring semester is almost over. We now look forward to the May Term, Summer School, and the fall semester. We have exciting plans for the fall. Several local business people will be guest speakers in some of our business classes, and the division will have a meeting/luncheon for all business majors. Pre-registration numbers in the division for the fall are encouraging. If you are graduating in December 2013 or May 2013, please ensure that you take fall only courses that are listed as requirements on the curriculum. These include BA370, BA446, EC341.

The division of business remains fully accredited by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP). Four students have been appointed Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) Ambassadors for the division. Their task is to explain the SLOs to all business majors. Jacob Jolibois-Management/Marketing SLOs, James Knight-Accounting SLOs, Allison Morein-General Business SLOs, Kyle Townsley-Economics/Finance SLOs.

Please do consult the division chair if you plan to take business courses elsewhere during the summer to avoid the risk of the courses being rejected for credit transfer. If you have any questions about anything while you are on summer break, please drop me an email on mazhambe@lacollege.edu

Blessings, and see you in the fall.

Dr. Arthur Mazhambe
Chair, Division of Business

ATTN: SENIORS PLANNING TO ATTEND GRADUATE SCHOOL

If you are planning to pursue a graduate degree and have not already started the process, early planning is key. Two components to check into are:

- GMAT — The Graduate Management Admission Test is required to apply to a graduate program in Business. The official GMAT website is www.mba.com.
- Application Deadlines — For fall 2013 admission to a graduate program, check with the college/university you are interested in attending for graduate application deadlines. They might be sooner than you think for fall admission.

Top 10 degrees that will land new graduates a job

Baltimore Business Journal by Ryan Sharrow, New Media Editor
Date: Monday, October 1, 2012, 2:22pm EDT

Good news for the Class of 2013: Hiring is expected to pick up.

Companies expect to hire 13 percent more college graduates from next year’s class than they did in 2012, according to a new survey from the National Association of Colleges and Employers.

So which industries are doing the hiring?

Employers in pharmaceutical manufacturing; computer and electronics manufacturing; retail trade; finance, insurance, and real estate; management consulting; and professional services anticipate double-digit increases in hiring, the survey said.

Here’s a list from the National Association of Colleges and Employers on the top 10 bachelor’s degrees in demand for the Class of 2013:

1. Finance
2. Computer and information science
3. Accounting
4. Business administration/management
5. Mechanic engineering
6. Management information systems
7. Electric engineering
8. Computer engineering
9. Marketing/marketing management
10. Economics

ACADEMIC ADVISING FOR BUSINESS MAJORS: 10/29-11/2

Schedule an appointment with your business faculty advisor. Each faculty member has posted by their door available times for you to sign up for advising. If available, your advisor may have time to meet with you outside of the scheduled advising dates.

Spring 2013 course offerings are available on the LC website under “Quick Links.”

If you have more than 30 hours, the Div. of Business will have an updated curriculum sheet showing courses for which you have received credit. See Robin Bunting if you would like a copy.

Come to your advising appointment with a preliminary schedule of classes you would like to take.

The LC campus chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management is accepting membership applications at this time. Yearly dues are $30. Applications can be picked up from Robin Bunting in the Div. of Business. Dr. Arthur Mazhambe is the faculty advisor. Come be a part of planning events and activities for the 2012-13 year.
NEW FACULTY
We welcome to the division our new accounting professor, Dr. Adena LeJeune.
Dr. LeJeune joins us with ten years of experience teaching accounting. Please offer your assistance as she becomes familiar with our campus.

BUSINESS SCHOLARSHIP
Congratulations to this year’s Division of Business scholarship recipient Kyle Townsley. Kyle was chosen from among several incoming freshmen candidates based on his academic accomplishments, honors received and his community and Christian service. Also considered is the candidates’ potential for succeeding in the Business degree program. Kyle is from Merryville, LA.

Welcome to the Division of Business
Professors Culp, LeJeune, Packer and I will do all that is necessary to make your studies pleasant in the division.

Mrs. Robin Bunting will be glad to assist you with information and please do not hesitate to ask her about anything. She will know how and where you can get help.

Your professors will require you to read and understand the syllabus in each course. Please take time to be familiar with all aspects of your obligations in the courses you take this semester. Several computers are available in the division for use by Business students.

Please schedule an appointment with your advisor as soon as you determine that you need help on matters pertaining to your studies. You may seek help from your course instructor, where appropriate.

Blessings to you all,

Dr. Arthur M. Mazhambe
Chair, Division of Business

ATTENTION: Juniors and Seniors

- If you are a junior or senior and working, please see Dr. Mazhambe to discuss possible internship credit.

- If you are graduating in December 2012 or May 2013, this is your last chance to take courses normally offered only in the fall. Please check the graduation checklist sent to you from the Registrar’s office.
